

Girl Is Captain Of Boy's Basketball

Jayna Lilly is unstoppable on the basketball court! She is one of the best players on her basketball team. The 13-year old is co-captain of her team at Hampstead Hill Academy in Baltimore, Maryland. In addition, Lilly is the only girl on the team.

"I was watching the boys play," Lilly said, "and I went up to the coach and asked if I could try out, because it looked like I could help them out some."

Lilly has helped the team quite a bit. Her coach, Jason Wheatley, is very impressed with her.

"She's one of the best players on the team...and she's a leader," he said. "I think the biggest thing about Jayna is she's fearless, which makes a great athlete."

Lilly does well both on and off the court. She is the point guard on her basketball team, and she maintains a 3.8 GPA. She dreams of being a lawyer and a WNBA player someday.

What do you think of her? Do you want to be in a boy's basketball team?
