

This Is Why Chihuahua Dogs Shouldn't Drive Cars?!

While a man was shopping in a store, he noticed something strange. His dog and car left the parking lot without him. The car only stopped when it crashed into another car.

The woman who was driving the second car was stopped at a red light. When she felt the crash, she looked and saw no one in the car, except for a small dog sitting on the steering wheel. She was very surprised and didn't know what was happening. "I thought I was going crazy or the dog was driving the car!" she said.

The dog's owner went into the store and asked if anyone had a gold car. When the woman said it was hers, the dog's owner explained, "Maybe my dog accidentally moved the car." He thought the dog might have released the handbrake, which made the car move.

Luckily, no one was hurt in the accident, and the damage to the car was very small.

This unusual story shows how sometimes strange things can happen, even when we never expect it!
